

В балансі з майбутнім!

071 Accounting and taxation

The major "Accounting and Taxation" provides the development of core and professional competencies in accounting, analysis, control, audit and taxation with an emphasis on their specific features in enterprises, institutions and organizations of various forms of ownership, organizational and legal forms of management and economic activities. The curriculum aims to provide theoretical and practical training of highly qualified personnel that will meet modern requirements of the labor market.

Majoring "Accounting and Taxation" provides employment in the following areas:

- chief accountant;
- auditor, assistant auditor;
- tax inspector;
- accountant of the accounting area;
- accountant-economist;
- expert accountant;
- accountant in management accounting;
- tax advisor;
- accountant-analyst, etc.